Government agencies, universities and non-profit organizations with an interest in water and the environment are invited to become Cooperating Organizations. As a co-operating organization, there is no financial obligation to be carried by your organization.

ASCE-EWRI will offer:

- Registration to your members at discounted member rates
- A listing of your organization in promotional materials as a cooperating organization, and
- A link from the symposium website to your organization's

In return, ASCE-EWRI requests that _____ (Name of Cooperating Organization):

- Inform your membership and your contacts of the symposium in newsletters, journals, or other appropriate written communication to your membership, and
- That a link be established from your website to the Watershed Management Symposium 2015 website.
- Grant permission to ASCE-EWRI to use your logo, as needed, in all symposium marketing materials.

As information becomes available, we would like to forward electronic copies for distribution to your membership. The only requirement is to help publicize the symposium to your constituents via your magazine, newsletter, and/or website and granting permission to be listed in all symposium materials.
